

To whom it may concern:

Greetings!

This comment is in regard to Proceeding MB Docket No. 04-233."

I'd like to voice my complaint over the FCC's plans to eliminate certain FM frequencies in favor of the Low Power FM (LPFM) and how it will eliminate a very important station in my area of rural New Mexico. That station is K-LOVE. K-LOVE consistently provides great services to me and my family in our local community. Not having it here would severely limit the broadcasting choices in the area.

I believe that if K-LOVE were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming, a large portion of the listening audience in my area would be severely and unnecessarily deprived.

K-LOVE supplies news, entertainment and positive encouragement through their specific broadcasting of positive Christian music and talk that has wide appeal. I believe that it is within the public's interest to leave well enough alone. If not, YOU have the responsibility of offering to the public reasons for a better alternative. This action has the signature of a "hush-hush-rush" operation. You've already lowered too many standards on television (although we're glad you smacked down the network after the "costume malfunction"). Don't make a mistake in radio, as well.

Thanks for your time and attention to this issue.

With regards,

Sean Lee
